Subject: Security Warning: Be careful of Olympic search results

Hello CNR,

This is just a be careful message. There has been lots of reports of poisoned search results on the Olympics. What this means is that a legitimate Google search might contain links to malicious websites that will try to infest your computer. One example is a search result that tries to take you to googlesearch.com instead of google.com. At first glance you might not notice the first letter is a Q and not a G. Safe surfing... Lon.
