Hello again CNRE,

Just a heads up, below is a phishing email that I just got and it looks pretty official. However the links (that I removed) did not go to Facebook. I don't know if it was a malicious site or just some advertising since I didn't click on it myself but it definitely wasn't Facebook. The real giveaway for me was that I don't have a Facebook account. I deal enough with computers during the work day, I don't need to spend my evenings and weekends on one too :) Lon.
